

OFBF Case IH Discount Program Expands

COLUMBUS, Ohio (OFBF) – The Case IH Tractor and Equipment Incentive Program for Ohio Farm Bureau Federation (OFBF) members has been expanded and made easier to use. The program gives eligible Farm Bureau members discounts from $300 to $500 on select Case IH products.

Farmall compact tractors, Farmall utility series C, U, and J and Farmall 100A series plus Maxxum series tractors remain as qualified products. Newly added products include self-propelled windrowers, large square balers, round balers, small square balers, disc mower conditioners, sickle mower conditioners and the Case IH Scout utility vehicle.

The Farm Bureau incentive may be used with other discounts, promotions, rebates or offers provided by Case IH or a participating Case IH dealership. A current Farm Bureau membership verification certificate must be presented to the Case IH dealer in advance of product delivery to receive the incentive discount.

The membership verification certificates are now easier to obtain. Farm Bureau members simply visit www.fbverify.com/case. Certificates will be issued when the member enters his or her Farm Bureau member ID number and zip code. To qualify, participants must be a Farm Bureau member for at least 30 days and reside in Ohio or other participating state.

To learn more about Ohio Farm Bureau and the Case IH incentive program, or to join and become eligible for the discount, visit ofbf.org.